The third round of The Game Project's cross-genre PvP project, Aura. The colonist characters created for the project are unique and can only be trained by The Game Project's staff. The colonist's activation requires various tags to be added to the colonist, such as Tech-X, Data-XX, Upgrades-XX, etc. They feature unique designs, ranging from the full-on to the minimalist. See here more information on colonist for technical details and additional images. The colonist will begin his career in a totally unprepared colony, but he will be able to learn new skills during the game. The colonist's abilities and skills are based on the colony: his crew, patches, and technology. Check out our previous game The Game Project - Junior Colonist, where colonists played out their stories and listened to their friends talk about them. *The Game Project is a joint project of the NRK company and Lektor Studio. We are excited to introduce you to the game that will carry on the aura that we've created together over the last two years. Description This expansion for The Game Project - Junior Colonist offers four new suit variations for the colonist and 20 new skills for his development. Claim your own unique colonist and train him for a new, PvP battle: The suit for the colonist is an important part of his development. With each new suit, he will receive new skills and will start his career in a completely different way. Gain the upper hand over your enemies by choosing the right suit and bonuses for your colonist. The colonist will also be able to wear his unique suit and will be able to gain new special skills based on the tags you apply to him. They're made to mirror the abilities of their fleet in the previous game, with colours that help tell their story. The Game Project - Junior Colonist also features new campaign options and a new soundtrack by the talented producer Domenico. Try to discover the story of your colonist in the first episode, and complete the game with a quest that matches the colonist's life. The Game Project - Junior Colonist is a new chapter in the story of Aura and a unique in its genre. The colonist characters created for this project are unique and can only be trained by The Game Project's staff. This is the third round of The Game Project's cross-genre PvP project, Aura. - -

Q: What objects can't be serialized by browserify? Is there a list of objects that are (or can't be) serialized by browserify, Javascript and HTML5? For example: I'm using Backbone.js and one of the benefits of Backbone is the object state saving. This means that if I want to restore my all models from a previous page then my models have to be serialized and sent to the previous page, and then they restored. In the Backbone models, I have a mutator called reset which gets called whenever the app start up. I wonder, what can be the problem with this mutation? Do I have to find every object that can be mutated by javascript, and make sure that this object is serialized or does browserify have this functionality? Any thoughts? A: It's hard to give concrete answers without having much detail about what objects you're dealing with. As far as I know, there are no restrictions on what objects

We all want to survive and procreate, right? You are one of the lucky ones. Your community was well prepared for this event. You got everything you need to live in harmony with your neighbors and build a new way of life. But you have to be smart, and you have to be prepared for anything. Prepare yourself, train and survive. OSES is a post apocalypse shooter with a strategic layer, positioning of the survivors is crucial to the completion of the objectives. Run, shoot and switch between characters to guarantee the safety of everyone. OSES offers the switching character mechanic, making it a shooter with bits of strategy, in which you need to manage positioning and ammunition of each character. The game has a 7 scenario short campaign and 20 time challenge maps, do your best to complete them and use the credits you get in matches to buy better weapons, drone drops and hats! Complete challenges in 4 game modes: escape, defense, food rush and boss battles. Each one has different playstyles. Escape: Focused in agility and knowledge of the maps, the characters must escape to the firepits as fast as possible, solving simple puzzles on the way. Defense: In this mode the characters must stop the zombies from destroying the energy generators and keep their weapons loaded, so that they are not surprised by the enemy. Food rush: On food rush maps, all characters are starving to death and need to run around the map to collect food packages, trying to take the most of each one while stopping the zombies from infecting them. Boss battle: Defeat the boss as fast as you can, while managing your ammunition and getting better weapons from boxes around the map. Beyond the official maps, the game has the workshop integration, so that the players can create and share their own maps, or download those created by the community. The available tools allow the player to create maps on the 3 game modes, and even mix various game modes to create a new and challenging experience. It is also possible to create maps with focus on narrative. About This Game: We all want to survive and procreate, right? You are one of the lucky ones.
